Advanced Search & Seizure (26CPT085)

Knowing when and how to conduct a search or seizure is a critical part of good police work. This course breaks down the Fourth Amendment and how it applies on the street, giving officers the tools they need to make solid, defensible decisions in the field. You'll get hands-on with the legal foundations behind search and seizure—when you can act, when you need consent or a warrant, and what happens when you cross the line. We'll cover both federal and state cases to make sure you're ready no matter where you work. Through case studies and real-world scenarios, you'll build the confidence to handle these situations the right way.

This course offers law enforcement officers a deep dive into the case law that shapes highway interdiction efforts. It equips officers with the knowledge and skills to identify reasonable suspicion and probable cause, ensuring stops and searches meet constitutional standards. Officers will explore the factors courts have deemed most relevant for exposing drug and human smuggling operations on the road. The course reinforces the importance of understanding the Fourth Amendment, providing officers with the confidence to justify their actions and protect their cases from legal challenges. Whether an officer is new to interdiction, looking to expand proactive policing tools, or a seasoned veteran determined to stay sharp, this course helps keep them one step ahead in the fight against trafficking.
